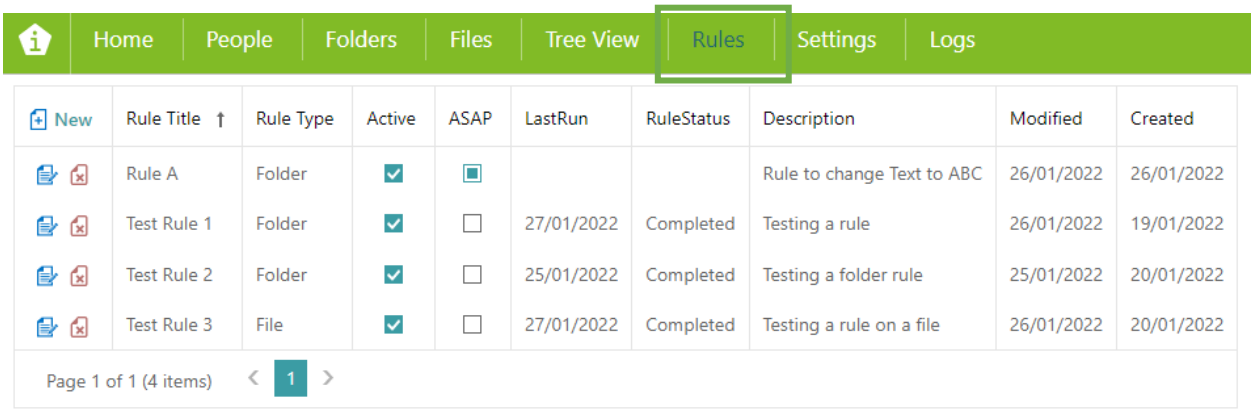
Rules

Rules can be set up to allow you to act on files or folders when a set of specified criteria has been met.

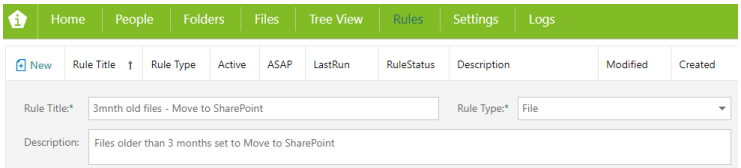
You can find the Rules tab in the Menu Bar.



The view above shows a list of the created views. Each column in the view allows sorting.

Creating a New Rule

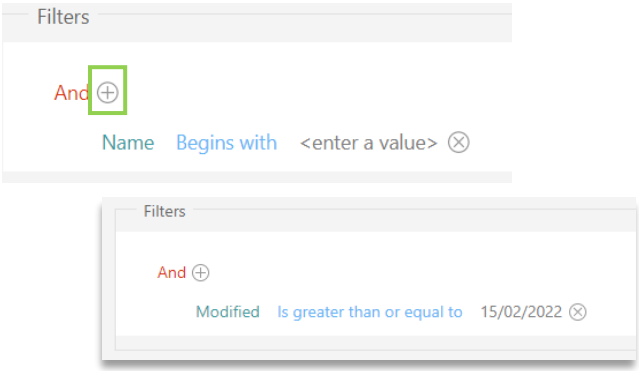
If you require a new rule to be set up, click on the "New" button.



Enter in the rule details:

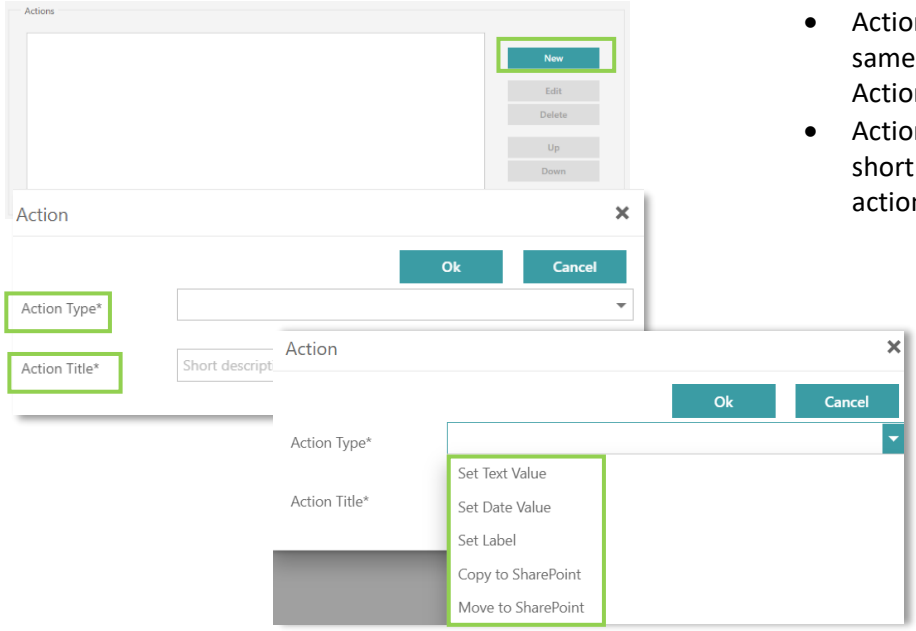
- Title of your rule
- Rule type (must be file or folder)
- Description (what your rule is intended to do.

Example – here we are creating a rule with the criteria if a file has not been modified in 3 months or longer – set flag to move file to SharePoint.



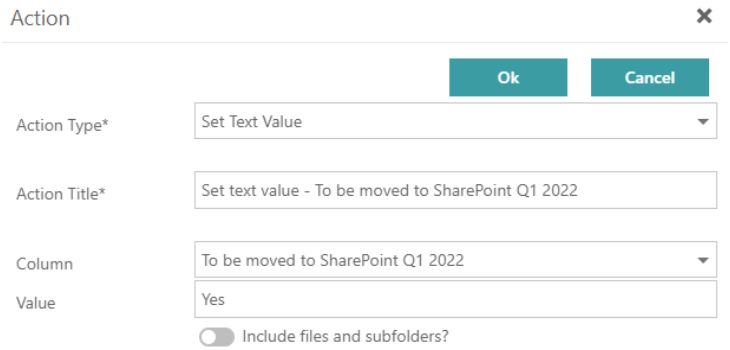
Enter the rule filters:

- Filters (click on the "+" symbol to create)
- Clicking on the words allows you to change the value
- Clicking on the "x" symbol deleted the filter



To create a rule, select New

- Action Type: The actions are the same actions you find in Quick Actions
- Action Title: Provide a title or short description of what the action does

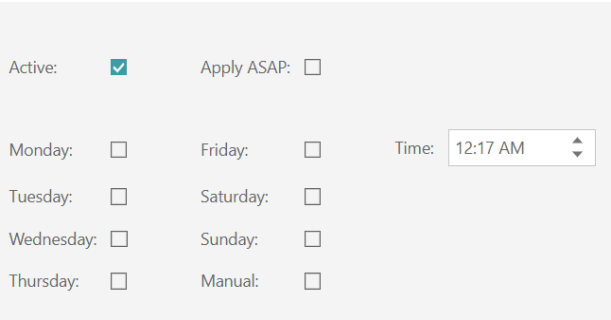


Text Value allows you apply a value to Text Columns for files or folders that meet a specified criteria. Select any of the Text Columns that are available.

Example – we have selected text value column "To be moved to SharePoint Q1 2022". The value we want to set is "Yes"

Note: You can toggle to include files and subfolders if applying at folder level

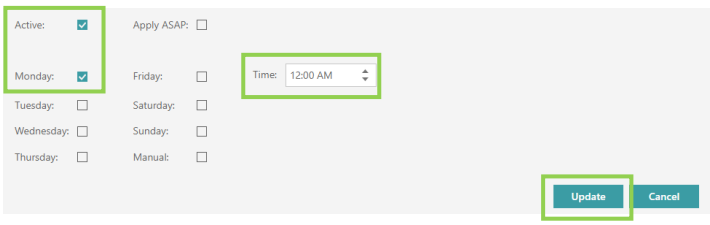
Note: Text columns can be renamed in the Settings tab in the Menu Bar



We can now choose when our rule will run and whether it is a manual rule.

First make the rule "Active" and then choose "Apply ASAP" if you want the rule to run straight away, or you can choose a paticular day and time that the rule will run. Note: multiple days can be chosen.

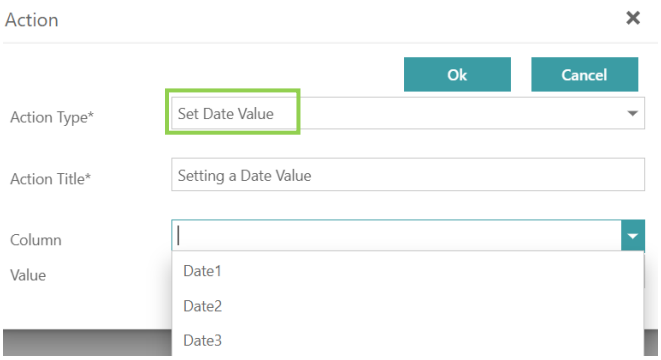
Note: Selecting "Manual" allows you to run the rule on the spot from within the Files or Folders Tools.



Example – we have made the rule active and selected it run every Monday at 12.00am.

Select Update when complete.

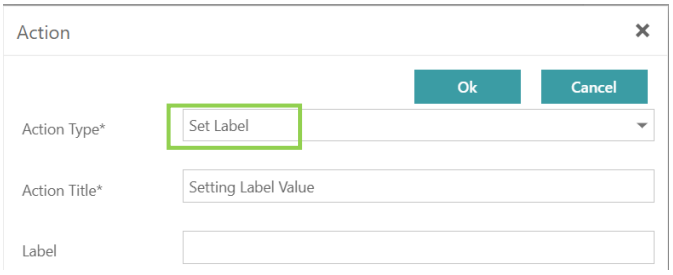
Other rule action options



Date Value allows you apply a value to Date Columns for files or folders that meet a specified criteria. Select any of the Date Columns that are available.

Note: You can toggle to include files and subfolders if applying at folder level

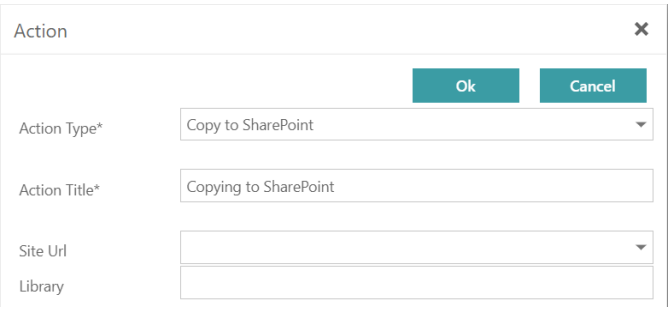
Note: Date columns can be renamed in the Settings tab in the Menu Bar



Set Label allows you to apply retention labels to files (or folders) that meet a specified criteria.

Note: The retention label must be first configured in the Complaince Centre and published to the locations you want the label applied to.

You require an E5 licence to apply labels to folders.



Copy or Move to SharePoint allows you to select files or folder to be moved or copied to SharePoint that meet a specified criteria.

Enter in the SharePoint site url and the display name of the library you want to files copied or moved to

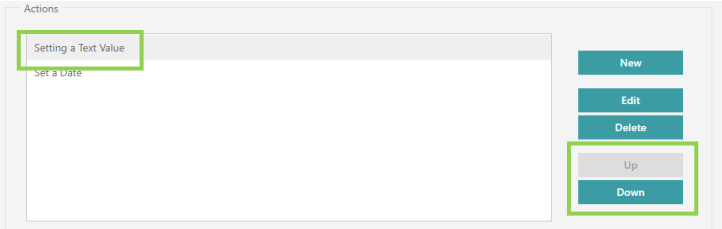
Editing an action

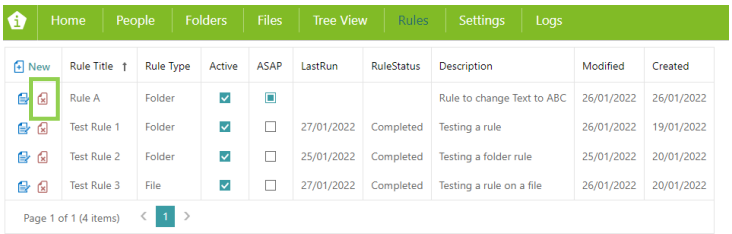
Select the action within a rule > select Edit



Changing the order of actions

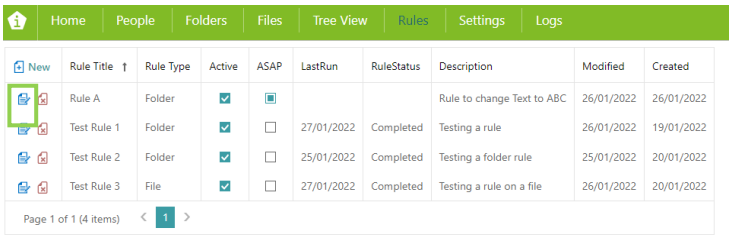
Select the action within a rule > select Up or Down to change the order the rules run

Deleting, editing, or making a rule inactive

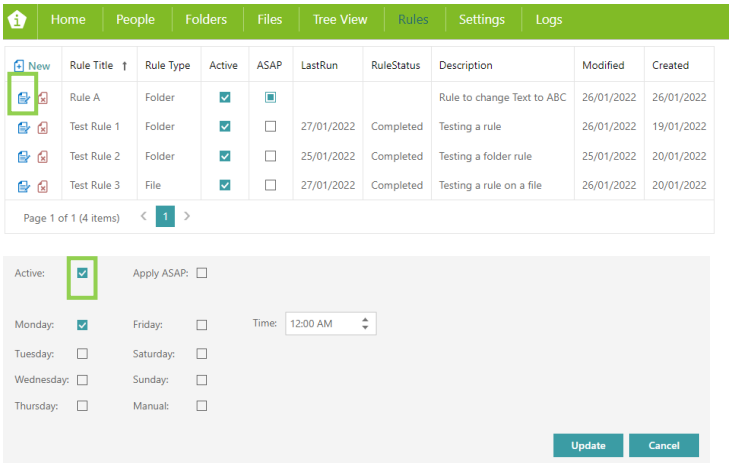


Deleting a rule > select the red file icon next to the Rule Title

Note: When you no longer require the rule to be active, deselcted the Active tick box or delete the rule.



Editing a rule > select the blue file icon next to the Rule Title



Making a rule inactive > alternatively to deleting the rule, you can make the rule inactive when you no longer require it. You can make the rule active again in the future.

Edit the rule > deselect the Active checkbox to make inactive.

Select Update.

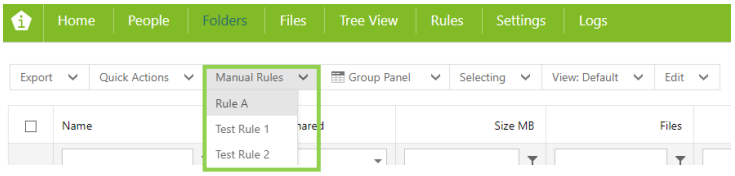
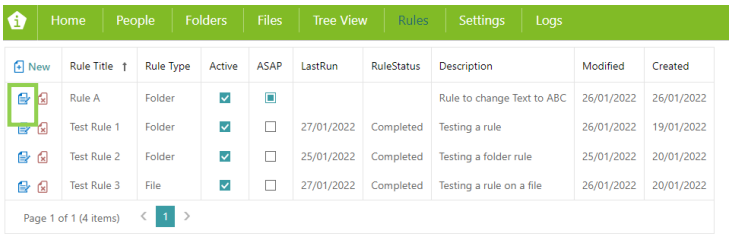
Running a manual rule



When a rule has been selected to run "Manual" – it will appear in the Manual Rules drop down in the task bar within the Folders and Files Tools.

Note: if the rule you require is not appearing in the drop down, make sure the rule is set to manual in the rule settings.



Running a rule > select any of the rule options to run.

The rule will run according to the schedule set in the rule.
