Case Item and Library Folder deletion settings

Background

By default, Smart Case Files has a specific deletion configuration that does the following.

- Blocks Members from deleting Cases,
- Blocks Owners from deleting Cases,
- Allows Site Administrators to delete Cases leaving the attached Library Folder in place.

This functionality has always been included in the app, however we've recently added functionality to allow for your administrators to specify differing behaviour based upon a users' inclusion in specific out of the box SharePoint Groups.

Updated functionality

As of January 2022, we've provided the ability for you to be able to apply any of the following options:

- Block deleting Smart Case File items.
- Can delete Smart Case File items, folder and documents are retained in the library.
- Can delete Smart Case Files items, folder and documents will be sent to the recycle bin.

To any of the three indicated groups:

- Members.
- Owners.
- Site Administrators.

Please pay attention to the options labelled as (default); these indicate the functionality that has always been included within the app.

Setup and configuration

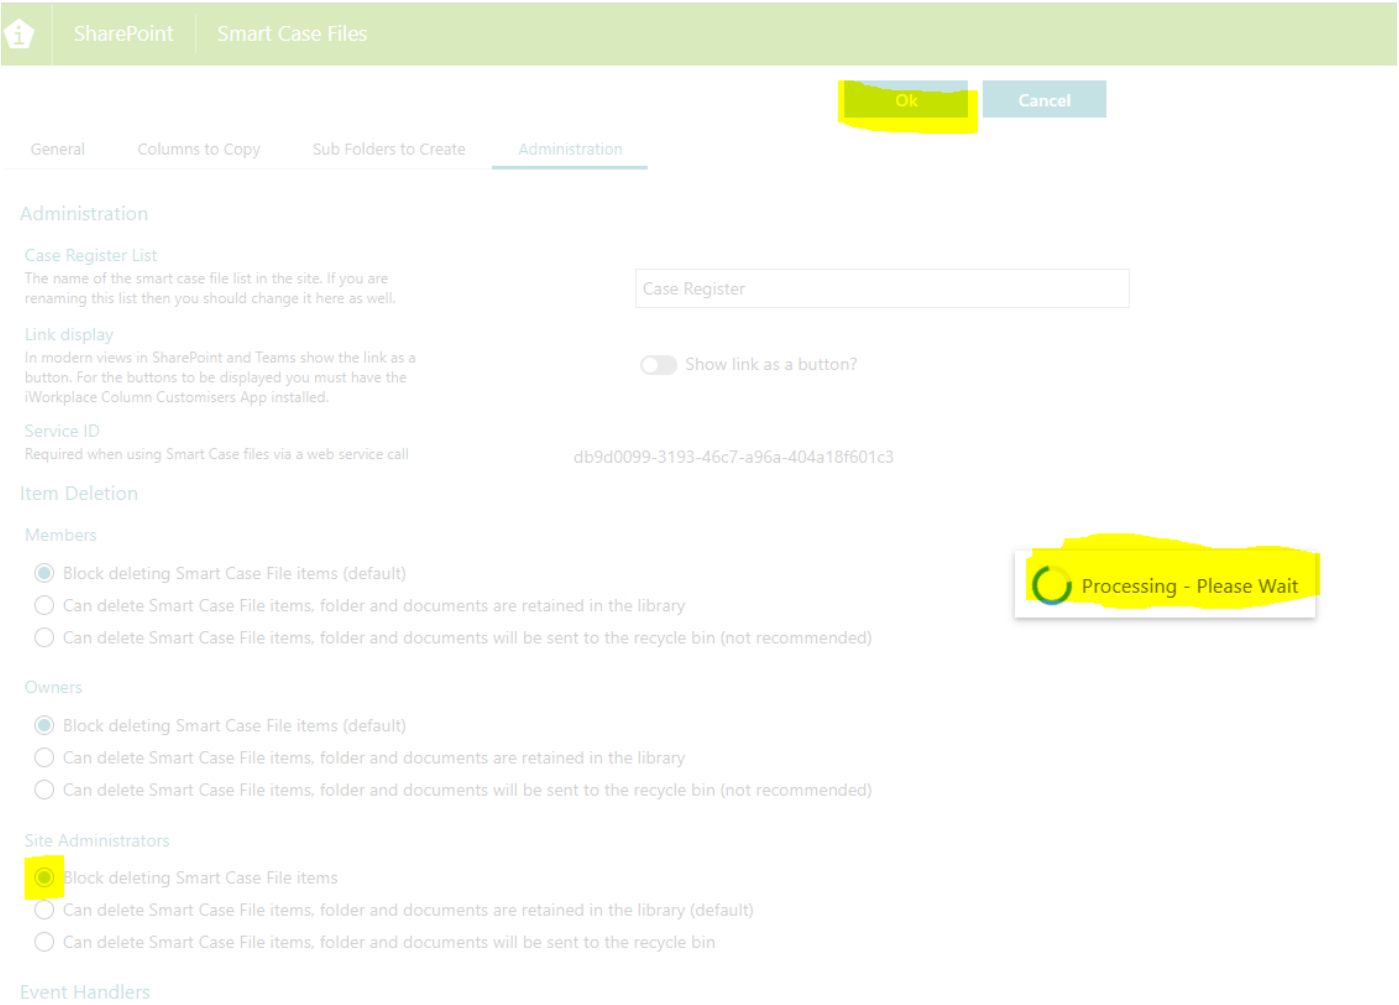
Select a new option within the appropriate section to change the deletion behaviour. Click the Ok button at top right of the interface. Allow the interface to complete processing.



Now, being logged in with an account with the appropriate permission levels, attempt to delete a Case Register item.

Examples

The following sections detail what you should expect to see when attempting to delete items at each different configuration level.

Block deleting of Smart Case File items

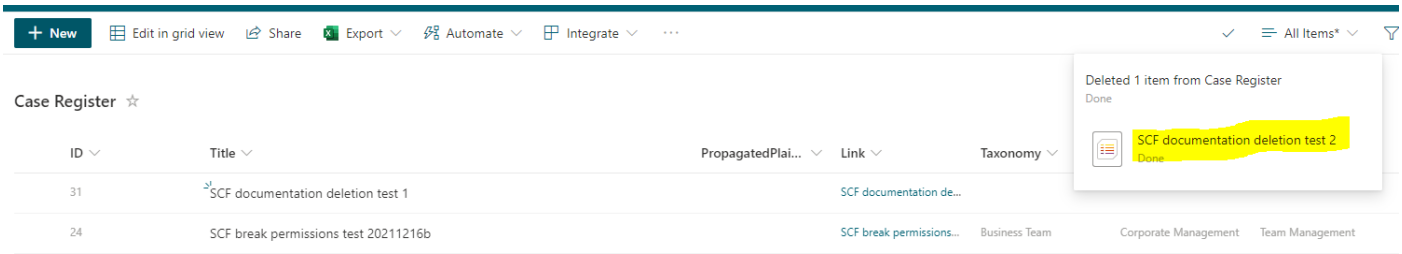
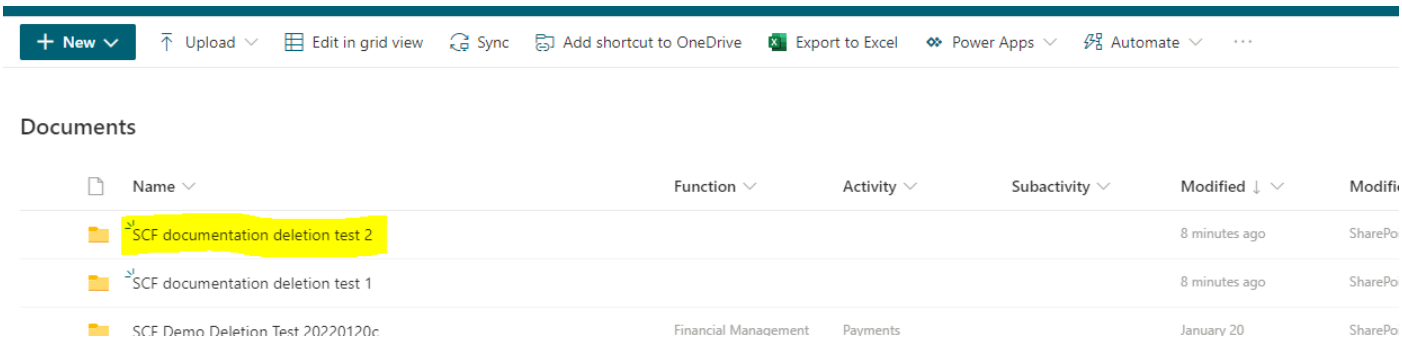
With this selection, you will be notified that you cannot delete Case Register items.

Can delete Smart Case File items, folder and documents are retained in the library

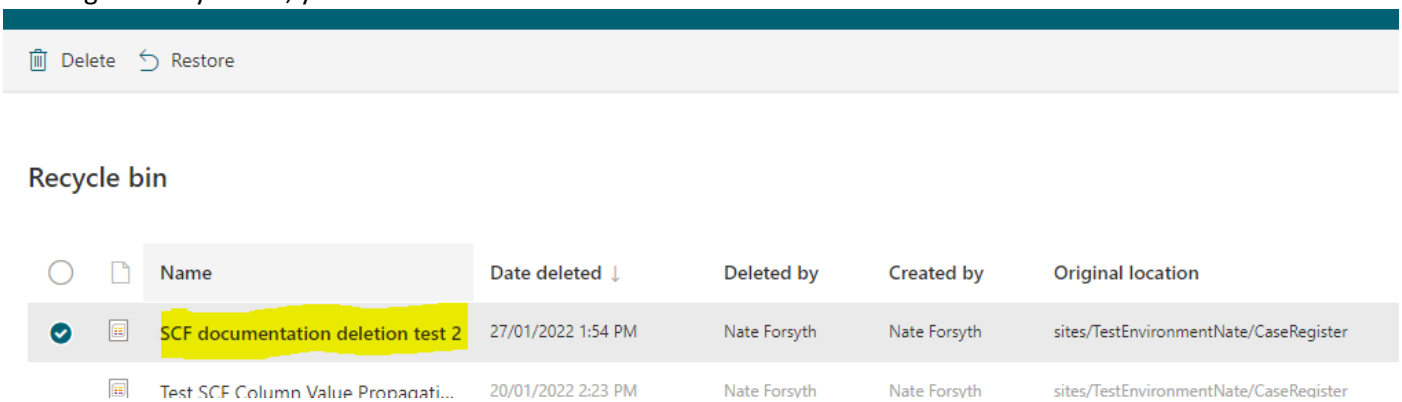
With this selection, you will receive a notification that your Case item has been deleted from the Register.



Viewing the Document Library Folder that was associated, you'll note that it is still available.



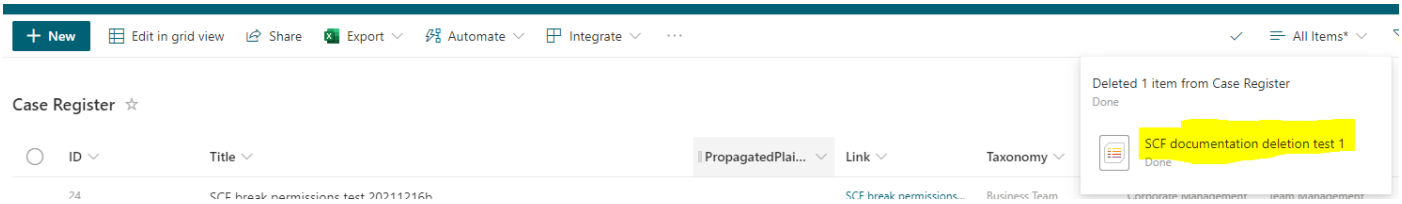
Viewing the Recycle Bin, you'll note that the Case item is available for restoration.



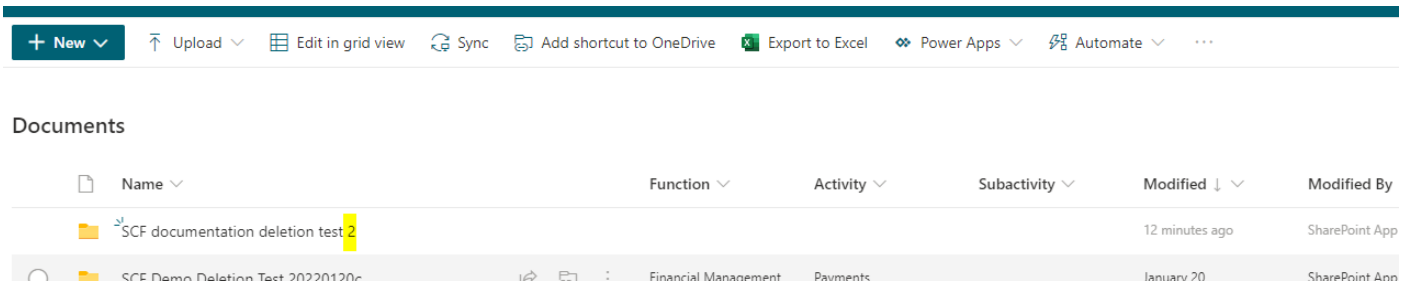
Restoring the Case item at this point will reattach it to the Document Library Folder. This is not immediate mind you, give it a few moments.

Can delete Smart Case Files items, folder and documents will be sent to the recycle bin

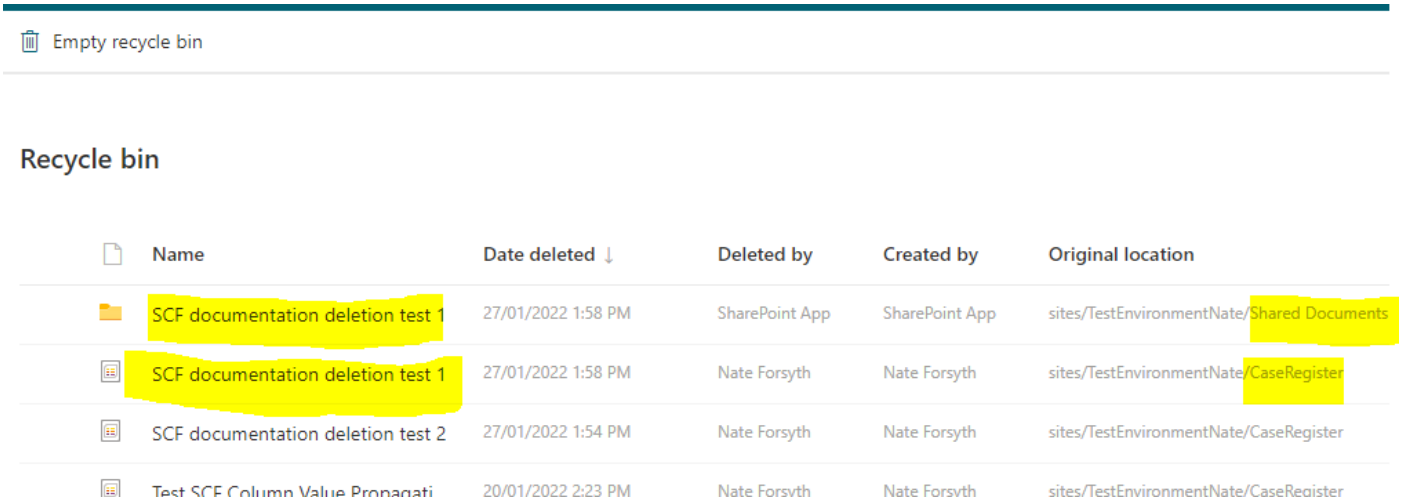
With this selection, you will be notified that your Case item has been deleted from the Register.



Viewing the Document Library, you'll note that the attached Folder has also been removed. Note in this screenshot that only the previous example is still in the Documents Library.



Viewing the Recycle Bin, you will see that both the Case item and the Document Library Folder have been removed.



Restoring both will return the Case item and Folder to normal functionality. If you do this, give it a few moments to complete processing.

Troubleshooting

As of the time of publishing this document, there are a couple of known scenarios that may trip you up.

With a group set as Site Administrator, members of that group cannot delete items

Smart Case Files currently supports Site Administrators added directly to the Site where Smart Case Files is installed.

Individual Users added to a Group that has that right will be validated as not having permission to delete items. Being a destructive action, this is intentional.

If this affects your environment, as a work-around, please consider allowing Owners to delete Case items, and adding the required Group to the Site Owners column in your site configuration.

We can assist you to do this, please raise a ticket with Customer Success referencing this document.

Help, my users have deleted a Document Library folder, we can't delete the Case item

While this isn't isolated to this updated functionality, it can remove the ability to manage a Case item. This will mean the item cannot be deleted.

Our product doesn't have any control over deletion of folders in a Document Library, therefore any user with permission to do so can remove a folder. This decouples it from the Smart Case Files item.

As long as the Folder hasn't been removed from the Recycle Bin, simply restoring it (and waiting a few minutes) will restore Case Register functionality, including the ability to delete the item constrained by the settings detailed in this document.

If however, the Recycle Bin has been emptied, you'll need to raise a ticket with Customer Success referencing this document.
